10. Management Discussion and Analysis Report

a) Industry Structure and developments

Gopala Polyplast Limited has been in the HDPE/PP woven sacks industry right from its inception. Today the Company is one of the largest manufacturer of PP Woven Sacks for Cement Industry in the Country. The Company has also diversified its activities by setting up facilities for manufacture of textile woven labels.

In India, Cement demand witnessed a compounded annual growth rate of more than 8% in the last 10 years and is likely to grow annually by about 10% basis on the high correlation which the cement industry bears with the overall GDP growth. This in turn is expected to lead to healthy demand situation for woven sacks. However, rising crude oil and inflation has resulted into inevitable rise in the input costs. The Company is pressing hard for upward revision in the conversion prices from its customers, which is expected to go through during the second quarter of the current financial year.

The growth of organized retailing through huge malls and increase in the demand of ready to wear garments because of changing fashion trends, have lead to growth in demand of labels. However due to the appreciation of Rupee against the US Dollar the garment exports from the country has plummeted thereby affecting the label business. The Company has made inroads in the domestic garments sector however the margins therein are lower and accordingly the performance of this division was adversely affected.

b) Opportunities and threats

Opportunities :

With the beginning of organized retailing of agro products the packaging requirement with value added PP woven bags will emerge creating a new market for the company's product.

Organised retailing has also resulted in a jump in Ready to wear garments sector, promising growth for the label industry.

Threats :

The threats of competition out of new capacities, fluctuation in petrochemical prices, increasing interest rates may put pressure on the Company's performance.

c) Segment-wise or product-wise performance

The details have been furnished under Sl. No. 13 of the notes to the financial statement of the Balance-sheet.

d) Outlook

Demand for the Company's products depends on the growth in demand for the products of its user industries, such as Cement, Sugar, Foodgrains in case of PP bags and Garment industry in case of Labels. Both the segment are buoyant due to overall growth of economy. Hence the outlook for the both the product is bright for the current year.

e) Risks and concerns

Some of user industries for the Company's products are restricted to use PP sacks as stipulated under Jute Packaging Materials (Compulsory Use in Packaging Commodities), Act, 1987, which affect the demand. Though the Company is not affected by the said restriction as its major sales is to Cement sector, it definitely impacts the growth plans. However SAC has recommended dilution of the said Act, which may open up Sugar & Food grain markets to Woven sacks industry.
